It was on February 15 that the Supreme Court struck down the 2018 amendments made to the Finance Act, Representation of the Peoples Act, Companies Act and the Income Tax Act which paved the way for the anonymous electoral bonds scheme in (<https://www.livelaw.in/top-stories/supreme-court-electoral-bonds-1scheme-249553>) Association for Democratic Reforms v. Union of India (<https://www.livelaw.in/top-stories/supreme-court-electoral-bonds-1scheme-249553>). The Court observed that the voter has the fundamental right to know the source of the funding of the political parties and the scheme infringed that right.
